SHIPS MUST TAKE CHANCES

British Admiralty Cannot Convey Merchant Vessels.
London, May 11.—On the question of why no naval escort accompanied the Lusitania, Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, explained in the house of commons that the policy of the admiralty is that merchantmen must look out for themselves. This policy is due to the fact that the admiralty had not sufficient destroyers to escort all merchant ships, they being required to guard the continuous stream of transports from England to France and to protect the English coast from German raids.
Naval observers are of the opinion that the use of destroyers for the protection of shipping is probably what the Germans are trying to force England to give, but they say that the admiralty, with its eye first on the naval and military needs of the country, will not divert its ships for other purposes.

Cunard Line Issues Revised List of Casualties.

New York, May 11.—Although a number of additional names of survivors of the Lusitania disaster were given in the latest revised list issued here by the Cunard Steamship company there was little to cheer anxious relatives or friends, because a list of identified dead given out by the line contained the names of some who had previously been reported among the survivors.

A relief committee, named by acting Mayor McAneny to raise funds for the survivors and relatives, met and arranged to send money to England for those in dire need. A general appeal for funds will be sent out, it was announced.

VALUABLE HINTS ON DISPOSING OF REFUSE.

How Pits With Covers Aid the Cleaners of Streets and Walks.

When streets and sidewalks are cleaned by hand sweeping there should be provided receptacles of appropriate design and suitable capacity for the reception of the street sweepings awaiting removal.

A useful form of such receptacle would be one which could be removed without being emptied, another being left in its place for the next day's sweepings. The same method is equally applicable for small garbage and household refuse.

There are other receptacles for street refuse that may be sunk in pits. They are made of steel with a dumping bottom, and the removal cart is provided with means of lifting them out of the pit to the top of the cart, which is covered with a top having special openings so that the contents of the cans may be dumped into the cart without being scattered by the wind.

After being so dumped the cans are lowered again into place in their pits.

In order to avoid handling such cans pits are located in the sidewalk near the curb, and the street refuse is swept directly into them, small hinged flaps bridging the gutter. The pit is, of course, provided with a cover.

The removal of all town street sweepings and garbage refuse should be done in wagons invariably having covers in order to protect the passing public and the workmen from escaping particles. It is better, however, to have it removed in the original cans, leaving empty cans in place, as this is an absolute protection to all concerned and gets the wagons off the streets sooner.

British Admiralty Cannot Convey

London, May 11.—On the question explained in the house of commons that the policy of the admiralty is

CHEERING NEWS IS SCARCE
Cunard Line Issues Revised List of Casualties.
New York, May 11.—Although a number of additional names of survivors of the Lusitania disaster were given in the latest revised list issued here by the Cunard Steamship company there was little to cheer anxious relatives or friends, because a list of identified dead given out by the line contained the names of some who had previously been reported among the survivors.
A relief committee, named by acting Mayor McAneny to raise funds for the survivors and relatives, met and arranged to send money to England for those in dire need. A general appeal for funds will be sent out, it was announced.

VALUABLE HINTS ON DISPOSING OF REFUSE.
How Pits With Covers Aid the Cleaners of Streets and Walks.
When streets and sidewalks are cleaned by hand sweeping there should be provided receptacles of appropriate design and suitable capacity for the reception of the street sweepings awaiting removal.
A useful form of such receptacle would be one which could be removed without being emptied, another being left in its place for the next day's sweepings. The same method is equally applicable for small garbage and household refuse.
There are other receptacles for street refuse that may be sunk in pits.
They are made of steel with a dumping bottom, and the removal cart is provided with means of lifting them out of the pit to the top of the cart, which is covered with a top having special openings so that the contents of the cans may be dumped into the cart without being scattered by the wind.
After being so dumped the cans are lowered again into place in their pits.
In order to avoid handling such cans pits are located in the sidewalk near the curb, and the street refuse is swept directly into them, small hinged flaps bridging the gutter. The pit is, of course, provided with a cover.
The removal of all town street sweepings and garbage refuse should be done in wagons—invariably having covers in order to protect the passing public and the workmen from escaping particles. It is better, however, to have it removed in the original cans, leaving empty cans in place, as this is an absolute protection to all concerned and gets the wagons off the streets sooner.

WORLD'S FASHION NEWS

Linen Being Used for Summer Frocks—Striking Effects Obtained by Using Striped Linen

Quantities and quantities of linen, both the very fine handkerchief linen and the heavier French linen, are being used for the summer frocks. Many of the most striking effects are obtained by using striped linen in the heavier quality, while the blouses of awning-striped handkerchief linen are legion.

The finest of linen, accordion-plaited, is being used for many of the midsummer frocks, and over it is draped lace. One of the most fetching creations is fashioned of cotton tulle in a pale pink tone. The skirt is accordion-plaited, the tunic reaching to within two or three inches of the underskirt, also accordion-plaited and both are outlined in scallops.

The irregular line of the skirt is becoming more emphasized every day. The simplest form is the point in the front and in the back, but one of the most daring of our couturiers is showing a skirt with plaited tucks at the side, hung in points several inches longer than the plaited underskirt. Other skirts, especially of tulle, are cut in irregular points, and undulate fascinatingly with every movement of the wearer.

In the evening frocks, the subtle, cool tones have superseded the brilliant colors and the result is indescribably lovely. Soft green are the latest favorites, the misty greys, greens and the blue-greens, not forgetting blue and a lovely fuchsia shade. An every evening gown should be supplied with its scarf of tulle.

The fabrics for blouses present a bewildering array of beauty for the summer. The filmy beauty of the Georgette crepe or the newer Callot chiffon make them decided favorites for the dressy blouse. The latter material is not so silky nor so crepey as the Georgette, but is soft and has the texture of the finest kind of chiffon, with a sort of wave through the material that adds to its attractiveness. Another popular material is Callot net, so silky, so soft and so fine that it might easily be run through the proverbial wedding ring.

As predicted earlier in the season by Mme. Alla Ripley, the Eton packet has come back and promises to come into some of its old popularity for coat suits. One especially smart Eton suit was worn a few days ago at the Blackstone tea dance by Mrs. Potter Palmer, Jr. It was fashioned of dark blue serge, trimmed with narrow silk braid at the cuffs and collar, the braid also edging the coat. The skirt was plain with plaits at the knees, and the jacket so short that it allowed a glimpse of the soft crepe blouse beneath.—From H. W. Gosard Co., courtesy H. F. Michael Co.

Poisonous Gas Geyser.

In the midst of the great faunal wilderness near Nairobi, Africa, is a big blowhole in the earth issuing poisonous gases. Surrounding this hole for many yards are piled bones of dead animals, poisoned by this gas geyser. Dogs dragged by ropes over the hole were killed in less than a minute. The gas has been found to be hydrochloric, coming from some volcanic depth. The death trap has been fenced and billed all around with warnings.—New York Press.

Egypt's Famous Mosque.

Egypt was long ruled by sultans, one of whom has given his name to what some consider the finest specimen of Saracenic architecture in the world. This is the mosque of Sultan Hassan, the pride of modern Calrenes, which was built about 1390, partly with stone taken from the pyramids. So delighted was the sultan with the beauty of the design that he cut off the right hand of the architect to prevent him building a rival edifice. In the walls there are, or were, some cannon balls fired from the neighboring citadel during the French invasion of Egypt.

The twenty-six letters of the alphabet may be transposed in many millions of different ways. All the inhabitants of the globe could not in a thousand million years write out all the possible transpositions of the twenty-six letters, even supposing that each wrote forty pages daily, each page containing forty different transpositions.—Pearson's Weekly.

GOOD IDEAS FOR CLEANUP CAMPAIGN.

Various localities where clean-up and paintup crusades are waged appoint special committees of women and girls to aid in the work.

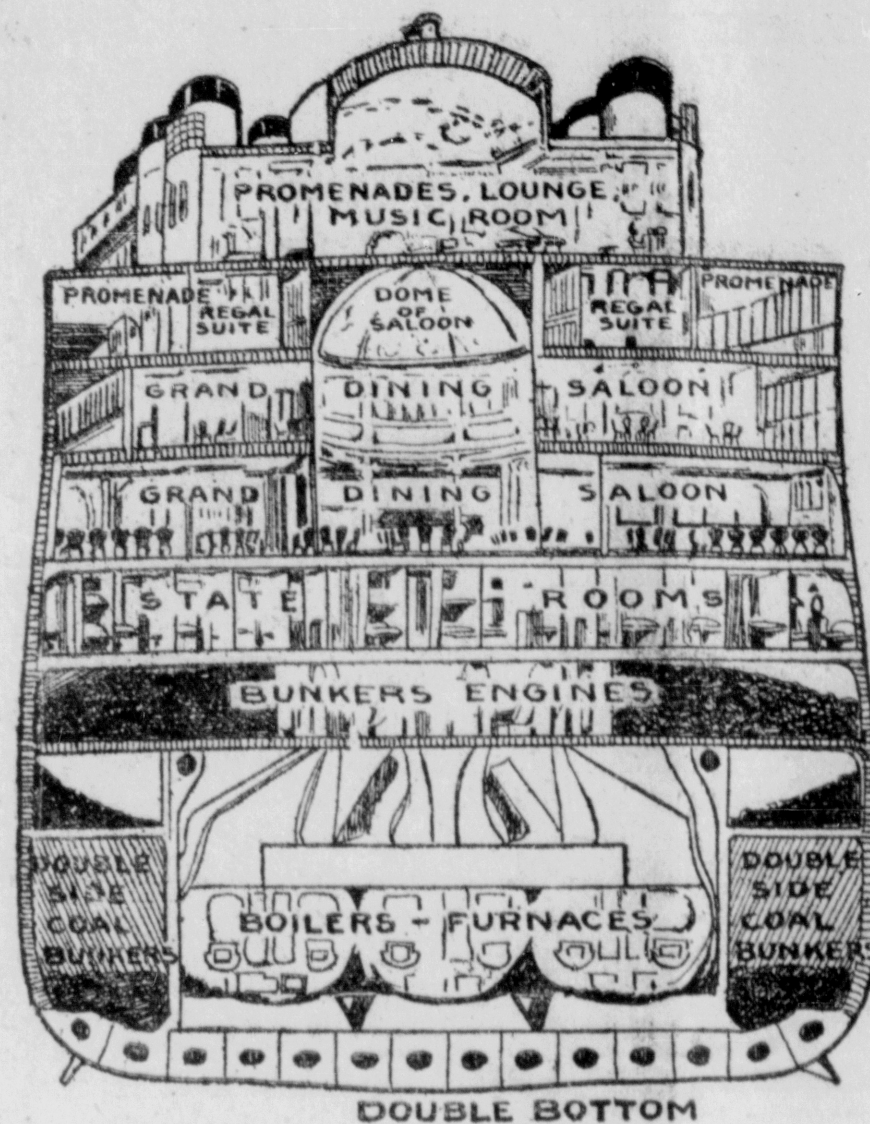

Also many schools organize their pupils into bands of dirt annihilators. The young folks are found to be especially effective in this sort of activity. Most of them like to feel that they have become old enough and big enough to assist the grownups in doing the grownups' work.

WORLD'S FAHION NEWS

Linen Being Used for Summer Frocks—Striking Effects Obtained by Using Striped Linen

Quantities and quantities of linen, both the very fine handkerchief linen and the heavier French linen, are being used for the summer frocks. Many of the most striking effects are obtained by using striped linen in the heavier quality, while the blouses of awning-striped handkerchief linen are legion.

The finest of linen, accordion-plaited, is being used for many of the midsummer frocks, and over it is draped lace. One of the most fetching creations is fashioned of cotton tulle in a pale pink tone. The skirt is accordion-plaited, the tunic reaching to within two or three inches of the underskirt, also accordion-plaited and both are outlined in scallops.

The irregular line of the skirt is becoming more emphasized every day. The simplest form is the point in the front and in the back, but one of the most daring of our couturiers is showing a skirt with plaited tucks at the side, hung in points several inches longer than the plaited underskirt. Other skirts, especially of tulle, are cut in irregular points, and undulate fascinatingly with every movement of the wearer.

In the evening frocks, the subtle, cool tones have superseded the brilliant colors and the result is indescribably lovely. Soft green are the latest favorites, the misty greys, greens and the blue-greens, not forgetting Nile and a lovely liehen shade. An every evening gown should be supplied with its scarf of tulle.

The fabrics for blouses present a bewildering array of beauty for the summer. The filmy beauty of the Georgette crepe or the newer Callot chiffon make them decided favorites for the dressy blouse. The latter material is not so silky nor so crepey as the Georgette, but is soft and has the texture of the finest kind of chiffon, with a sort of wave through the material that adds to its attractiveness. Another popular material is Callot net, so silky, so soft and so fine that it might easily be run through the proverbial wedding ring.

As predicted earlier in the season by Mme. Alla Ripley, the Eton packet has come back and promises to come into some of its old popularity for coat suits. One especially smart Eton suit was worn a few days ago at the Blackstone tea dance by Mrs. Potter Palmer, Jr. It was fashioned of dark blue serge, trimmed with narrow silk braid at the cuffs and collar, the braid also edging the coat. The skirt was plain with plaits at the knees, and the jacket so short that it allowed a glimpse of the soft crepe blouse beneath.—From H. W. Cassard Co., courtesy H. F. Michael Co.

Poisonous Gas Geyser.

In the midst of the great faunal wilderness near Nairobi, Africa, is a big blowhole in the earth issuing poisonous gases. Surrounding this hole for many yards are piled bones of dead animals, poisoned by this gas geyser. Dogs dragged by ropes over the hole were killed in less than a minute. The gas has been found to be hydrochloric, coming from some volcanic depth. The death trap has been fenced and billed all around with warnings.—New York Press.

TRENTON N. J. ELECTION

Trenton, N. J., May 11.—It is estimated that the second election under commission government in this, the Capital City of New Jersey, which takes place will bring out some thirty aspirants for the five commissions. This number, however, will be only half of the total field of test in Trenton four years ago at the starters that entered the primary contest of the first election held shortly after the new form of government has been adopted.

TRAMP IS TRAVELING KITCHEN

Red Wing, Minn., May 11.—Jim Sullivan, typical American tramp, carried a kitchen cabinet under his coat and when arrested here are the following were found: Eight large raw potatoes, weighing seven pounds. One quart bottle of sweet milk, one ten cent loaf of wheat bread, one half dozen tea biscuits, one half dozen Saturday rolls, fresh, two one-pound packages of ground coffee, two aluminum salt and pepper shakers, glass cruet filled with vinegar, one raw onion and two Japanese paper napkins.

VOTE ON BOND ISSUE

Alameda, Cal., May 11.—Today Alameda votes on the proposition of issuing bonds for the improvement of the harbor and public schools. The election was postponed from Apr. 14 until today because proper notice was not given of the balloting on the previous date and any election held under such conditions would be illegal.

"MOTHER'S DAY" IN CAPITOL

Washington, D. C., May 11.—Today is "Mother's Day" and in accordance with a resolution passed by the house of representatives May 11, 1913, all the government officials in Washington are wearing a white carnation in honor of the occasion.

FOR PEACE AND FIRMNESS

(By United Press)
Washington, May 11.—President Wilson's prompt disclaimer of his Philadelphia address on this country's policy concerning the Lusitania matter has left official Washington puzzled. The regular Tuesday cabinet meeting was unusually long and it is believed that the Lusitania matter was under discussion, but the members are secretive. The president this afternoon intimated that although he was for peace, he was also for firmness.

REV. DARNELL ON TRIAL

(By United Press)
Milwaukee, May 11.—The government scored heavily at the trial of Rev. Darnell, being tried on a white slavery charge. Evidence was introduced that he had specifically denied marrying Ruth Soper. The girl's features were pale and drawn and she seemed to have lost the confidence that marked the early features of the trial. Walter Mariat, city editor of the Kenosha newspaper, testified that Darnell had denied that he loved Ruth Soper, stating that he claimed Doris Vaughn was the only girl he had ever loved.

BAN ON INSURANCE

New York, May 11.—On account of the sinking of the Lusitania by the Germans life insurance companies have refused to issue further insurance on risks of like character. Insurance companies have paid about $6,000,000. That on the life of Vanderbilt being the heaviest.

SHIP SAILINGS CANCELLED

London, May 10.—Sailings for the Cunard ships for Saturday have been cancelled, as also the sailing of the Mauretania, whose sailing was dated for May 29.

New York, May 11.—The Cunard offices claim that no confirmation of the cancellation of sailings has been received by that office.

WAR AS ISSUE IN NEXT ELECTION

Wilson's Stand to Cause Either Defeat or Victory.

SENATOR LEWIS' PROPHECY

He Predicts That Whatever the Result Both Parties Will Refuse to Allow Foreign Entanglements to Enter Into Our Elections—Nation Interested in Welfare of Young Naval Officers.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.
Washington, May 11.—[Special.]—War is often considered a good political issue. It has been asserted that the Republicans carried the country in 1898 on the little war with Spain and that McKinley was re-elected because he had been a "war president." It has been asserted that if the United States should become involved in war, either in Europe, Asia or with Mexico, it would insure the re-election of the Wilson administration.

And here comes Senator Lewis of Illinois, a good political prophet, who asserts that the campaign next year will be on the conduct of foreign relations, and Wilson will win because he kept the country out of war. "The situation in Europe and the policies adopted by the United States toward European nations now at war will be the all absorbing topic before the country when the next campaign is on," said Senator Lewis.

German and Anti-German.
Senator Lewis knows the deep feeling which the Germans in America have on account of what they feel has been the bias of the country during the war. The Germans in Europe and the German press in this country and Germans everywhere have not hesitated to say that our government and the present administration have been far from neutral. It is expected that the German voters generally will be against the administration. In fact, the Democrats have acknowledged that such is likely to be the case.

But there are Democrats who look to see this fact cause a reaction. They believe that the opponents of Germany in this country will unite on the other side when they see an attempt to introduce a foreign national question into our politics.

Officers and Marriage.
It does not make any great difference with the progress and prosperity of the United States whether army and navy officers marry young or do not marry at all. There are so few of them comparatively that their domestic affairs do not affect the body politic. But because they are educated in the military institutions of the country and serve our country and sort of belong to us we feel that we must take more than ordinary interest in their affairs.

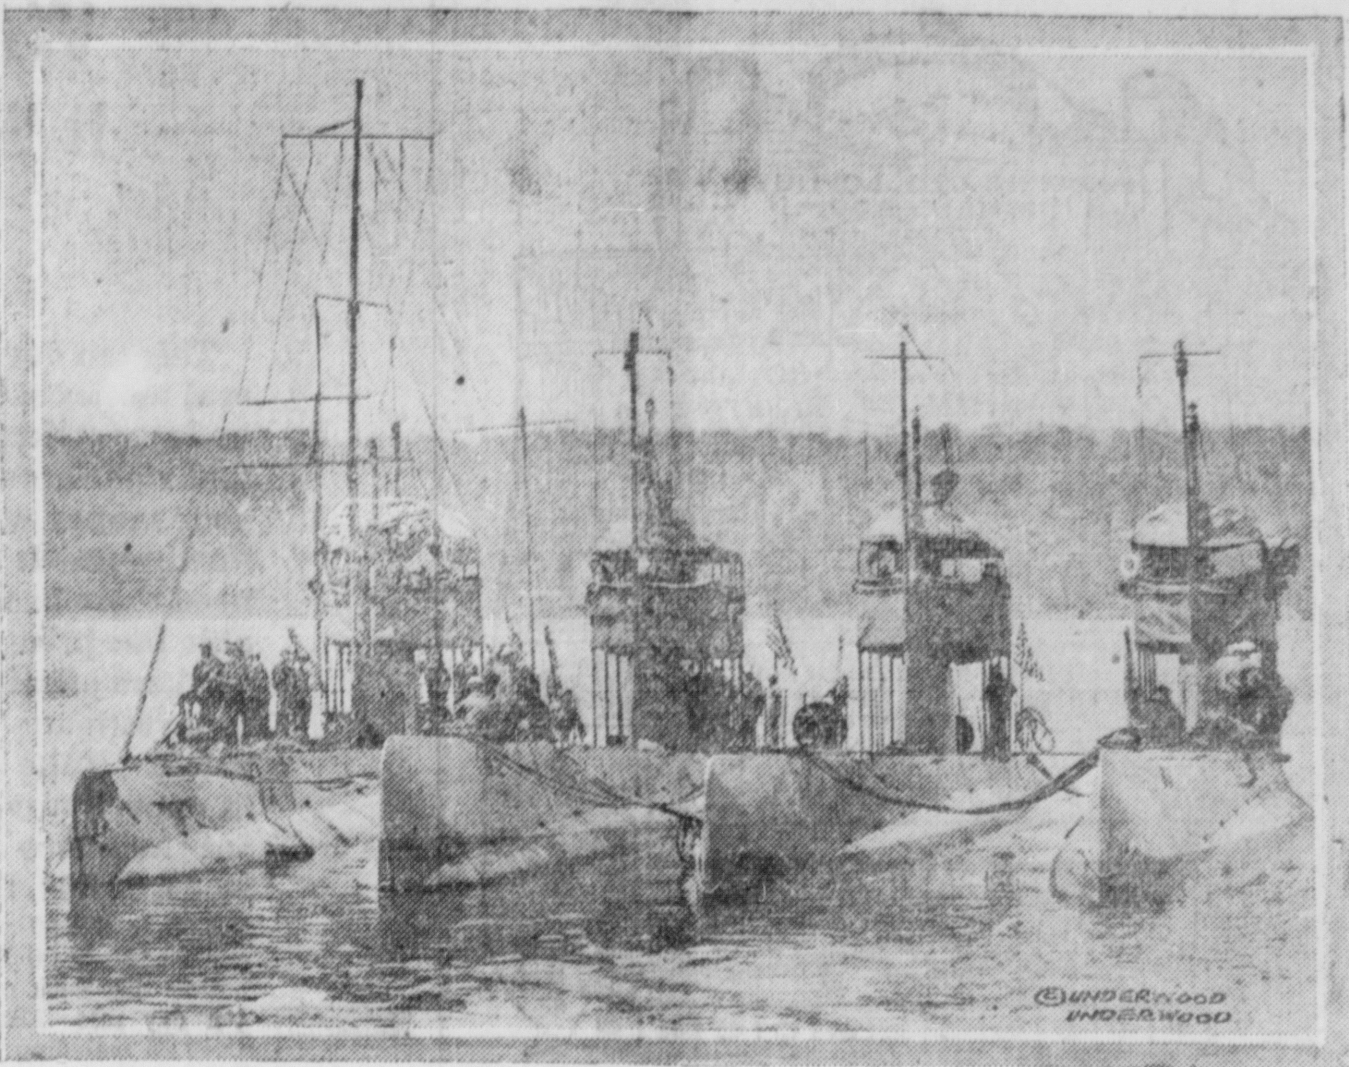

So when the question comes up whether or not young lieutenants of the army or ensigns of the navy shall be allowed to marry unless they or their brides have a certain amount of money it becomes something of a national question. General Corbin many years ago made an official protest against young army officers getting married as injuring themselves and the service.

Standing at the Gates.
For many years the midshipmen graduates at Annapolis did not receive their commissions until two years' service as passed midshipmen. During that time they were under control just as if they were at the academy. And secretaries of the navy refused to allow them to get married except under extraordinary circumstances. Now the graduates become ensigns at once and are privileged to marry when they get their diplomas. As a result there are many girls "waiting at the gate" for them. Marriages of these young officers are the rule, and they are encouraged by Secretary Daniels. He is sometimes called "Cupid's aid in the navy" on account of his generosity to young officers who want to get married.

Waiting on Glass.
Many Democrats in Virginia are waiting for Carter Glass to decide whether he will be a candidate for the senate against Claude A. Swanson. Glass ran against Swanson three years ago and was defeated. Since then many things have happened. Swanson was an Underwood man in the Baltimore convention. Glass has been a Wilson man and as chairman of the banking and currency bill was helpful in putting through the administration's currency measure. Ardent Wilson men in Virginia are ready to support Glass if he becomes a candidate for the senate.

One Veteran Less.
The death of Congressman Goulden of New York makes one Union veteran less in congress. In the senate there are four soldiers who served in the Union army, but in the house I can recall but one, General Sherwood of Ohio. Congressman Stedman of North Carolina is the only Confederate soldier in the house. There are three survivors of the Confederacy in the senate. It is not expected that veterans of the civil war will be chosen for either house of congress in the future. Goulden was one of the few men left who heard Lincoln's address at Gettysburg.

Four American Submarines Ready for Naval Exhibition

Here are four of Uncle Sam's submarines at anchor in the North River, ready for the naval exhibition which will last about ten days. Perhaps the largest fleet of war vessels ever collected in American waters will make up this show of the navy.

CAPTURE OF LIBAU IS IMPORTANT EVENT

J. W. T. Mason writes of the capture of Libau, and tells of the importance of that Port from which the Russians have sent large numbers of immigrants to America. If the Germans can hold onto this shipping center it will be of large value to them.

New York, May 11.—The capture of Libau by the Germans is an important gain which will be of a large value to the German peace commissioners, if it remains in possession of the Teutons at the end of the war. Russia has recently spent much money in developing the port, from which large numbers of immigrants take ship for America. It is one of the shipping centers of the empire and while of no value to the Slavs during the German blockade of the Baltic, its retention by the Germans after the war would seriously handicap the resumption of Russia's international trade. The Russian government announces Libau was defended only by territorial troops. The victory of the Germans was all out of proportion to the smallness of the forces engaged. Neither the Russians or the Germans were able to send any but moderately strong detachments for the Libau operations and in fact the affair on land does not seem to have risen much beyond the heights of an outpost engagement. The Germans in fact turned the scale in their favor by using warships. In the small number of troops engaged the battle of Libau resembled the recent Russian raid on Mempel. But surprise aided the Russians in their adventurous raid against Germany's northernmost port. Libau, however, was not attacked until a fortnight after the Germans began their offensive in the Baltic provinces. The Slavs, therefore had opportunity to redistribute their troops to protect Libau. The fact that this was not done was conclusive evidence that Russia's supply of ammunition is very low. Men, the Grand Duke Nicklas has in plenty, but the equipment is lacking. This undoubtedly is the reason why Libau capitulated. The main advance of the Germans in the Baltic province is northward of Riga, the provincial capital. Riga is 60 miles to the west of Riga Railway. What Russian troops are available for opposing the German advance will be used to protect Riga. The Germans took advantage of this fact and detached a small force from their main army apparently to proceed against Riga as a secondary military object. It appears only a brief conflict was fought at Libau. The Russians either made off or surrendered and Libau was taken as a casual incident of the war. The capture of the town gives to the Germans the most important Russian city that they have occupied since the beginning of hostilities with the possible exceptions of Lodz. If Russia cannot get back the port by force of arms she will have to trade heavily for it in the peace conference.

TODAY IS YOUR DAY.

Yesterday is Only a Record and Tomorrow is a Secret.

While walking in the streets one is often greeted with the cheerful remark, "It's a nice day!" Good days and bad days exist only in the mind. The weather has nothing to do with it. Each day is what we make it.

Suppose you get the word that your salary has been doubled or that a forgotten uncle has left you $1,000,000. What do you care about the weather then? Or suppose the person you love is dying. Unexpectedly a turn for the better comes. The doctor says your dear one will live. What if it is hotter than Tophet? It is a good day, a great day, a happy day. It is what we think and feel about it that makes each day what it is.

Put down in the notebook of your soul the poet Runeberg's thought, "Each day is a life." When you get up in the morning throw back your shoulders, take a deep breath and meet the new day like a man. Say to yourself, "Another day, another life!" For all we know it may be the only day we shall ever have. Let us make it the best day we can. Let us strive to make it a day worth while, to move a step forward in our work, do all the good we can, get all the happiness we can today.

Right now is the only time you can control. Yesterday is a record. Tomorrow is a secret. Today is yours and mine.—Philadelphia Press.

HE KNEW ALL ABOUT SIAM.

Had Even Heard of the Famous Twins From That Country.

One day President Cleveland sent for John Barrett, now director of the bureau of American republics, and said: "Mr. Barrett, I am looking for some young man who is not afraid of hard work and who wants to make a reputation for himself, to go as minister to Siam to settle the claim of Dr. M. A. Cheek involving several million dollars, and also involving some delicate matters in connection with the interpretation of our treaties with oriental countries. This particular case is one of the most important we now have in the orient. You have received strong endorsements from the Pacific coast as general to Yokohama, but the office was filled when your recommendations arrived. Will you accept the position as minister to Siam? But first, what do you know about Siam?"

Mr. Barrett couldn't remember whether Siam was in Asia or Africa, but a little thing like this didn't bother him, so he said, "Mr. President, I know all about Siam."

"Well, what do you know about Siam?" said Mr. Cleveland.

Mr. Barrett was stumped for a second, and then said, "Why, Siam is the country that produced the famous Siamese twins."

Mr. Cleveland, with a twinkle in his eye, arose gravely and said, as he shook hands with Mr. Barrett: "Mr. Barrett, I am happy, indeed, to get hold of a man with such profound knowledge and abundant information about Siam. As a matter of fact, I am glad you know nothing about it, as you will not be prejudiced one way or the other in regard to the questions to be settled there."

Mr. Barrett went to Siam, where he stayed for four years. At the time of his appointment he was twenty-six years old and was the youngest minister plenipotentiary that the United States had ever appointed.—Portland Journal.

GLASS OF SALTS
CLEANS KIDNEYS

If your Back is aching or Bladder bothers, drink lots of water and eat less meat.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

TRENTON N. J. ELECTION

Trenton, N. J., May 11.—It is estimated that the second election under commission government in this, the Capital City of New Jersey, which takes place will bring out some thirty aspirants for the five commissionerships. This number, however, will be only half of the total field of test in Trenton four years ago at the starters that entered the primary contest of the first election held shortly after the new form of government has been adopted.

TRAMP IS TRAVELING KITCHEN

Red Wing, Minn., May 11.—Jim Sullivan, typical American tramp, carried a kitchen cabinet under his coat and when arrested here are the following were found: Eight large raw potatoes, weighing seven pounds. One quart bottle of sweet milk, one ten cent loaf of wheat bread, one half dozen tea biscuits, one half dozen Saturday rolls, fresh, two one-pound packages of ground coffee, two aluminum salt and pepper shakers, glass cruet filled with vinegar, one raw onion and two Japanese paper napkins.

VOTE ON BOND ISSUE

Alameda, Cal., May 11.—Today Alameda votes on the proposition of issuing bonds for the improvement of the harbor and public schools. The election was postponed from Apr. 14 until today because proper notice was not given of the balloting on the previous date and any election held under such conditions would be illegal.

"MOTHER'S DAY" IN CAPITOL

Washington, D. C., May 11.—Today is "Mother's Day" and in accordance with a resolution passed by the house of representatives May 11, 1913, all the government officials in Washington are wearing a white carnation in honor of the occasion.

FOR PEACE AND FIRMNESS

(By United Press)

Washington, May 11.—President Wilson's prompt disclaimer of his Philadelphia address on this country's policy concerning the Lusitania matter has left official Washington puzzled. The regular Tuesday cabinet meeting was unusually long and it is believed that the Lusitania matter was under discussion, but the members are secretive. The president this afternoon intimated that although he was for peace, he was also for firmness.

REV. DARNELL ON TRIAL

(By United Press)

Milwaukee, May 11.—The government scored heavily at the trial of Rev. Darnell, being tried on a white slavery charge. Evidence was introduced that he had specifically denied marrying Ruth Soper. The girl's features were pale and drawn and she seemed to have lost the confidence that marked the early features of the trial. Walter Mariat, city editor of the Kenosha newspaper, testified that Darnell had denied that he loved Ruth Soper, stating that he claimed Doris Vaughn was the only girl he had ever loved.

BAN ON INSURANCE

New York, May 11.—On account of the sinking of the Lusitania by the Germans life insurance companies have refused to issue further insurance on risks of like character. Insurance companies have paid about $6,000,000. That on the life of Vanderbilt being the heaviest.

SHIP SAILINGS CANCELLED

London, May 10.—Sailings for the Cunard ships for Saturday have been cancelled, as also the sailing of the Mauretania, whose sailing was dated for May 29.

New York, May 11.—The Cunard offices claim that no confirmation of the cancellation of sailings has been received by that office.

WAR AS ISSUE IN NEXT ELECTION

Wilson's Stand to Cause Either Defeat or Victory.

SENATOR LEWIS' PROPHECY

He Predicts That Whatever the Result Both Parties Will Refuse to Allow Foreign Entanglements to Enter Into Our Elections—Nation Interested In Welfare of Young Naval Officers.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, May 11.—[Special.]—War is often considered a good political issue. It has been asserted that the Republicans carried the country in 1898 on the little war with Spain and that McKinley was re-elected because he had been a "war president." It has been asserted that if the United States should become involved in war, either in Europe, Asia or with Mexico, it would insure the re-election of the Wilson administration.

And here comes Senator Lewis of Illinois, a good political prophet, who asserts that the campaign next year will be on the conduct of foreign relations, and Wilson will win because he kept the country out of war. "The situation in Europe and the policies adopted by the United States toward European nations now at war will be the all absorbing topic before the country when the next campaign is on," said Senator Lewis.

German and Anti-German.

Senator Lewis knows the deep feeling which the Germans in America have on account of what they feel has been the bias of the country during the war. The Germans in Europe and the German press in this country and Germans everywhere have not hesitated to say that our government and the present administration have been far from neutral. It is expected that the German voters generally will be against the administration. In fact, the Democrats have acknowledged that such is likely to be the case.

But there are Democrats who look to see this fact cause a reaction. They believe that the opponents of Germany in this country will unite on the other side when they see an attempt to introduce a foreign national question into our politics.

Officers and Marriage.

It does not make any great difference with the progress and prosperity of the United States whether army and navy officers marry young or do not marry at all. There are so few of them comparatively that their domestic affairs do not affect the body politic. But because they are educated in the military institutions of the country and serve our country and sort of belong to us we feel that we must take more than ordinary interest in their affairs.

So when the question comes up whether or not young lieutenants of the army or ensigns of the navy shall be allowed to marry unless they or their brides have a certain amount of money it becomes something of a national question. General Corbin many years ago made an official protest against young army officers getting married as injuring themselves and the service.

Standing at the Gates.

For many years the midshipmen graduates at Annapolis did not receive their commissions until two years' service as passed midshipmen. During that time they were under control just as if they were at the academy. And secretaries of the navy refused to allow them to get married except under extraordinary circumstances. Now the graduates become ensigns at once and are privileged to marry when they get their diplomas. As a result there are many girls "waiting at the gate" for them. Marriages of these young officers are the rule, and they are encouraged by Secretary Daniels. He is sometimes called "Cupid's aid in the navy" on account of his generosity to young officers who want to get married.

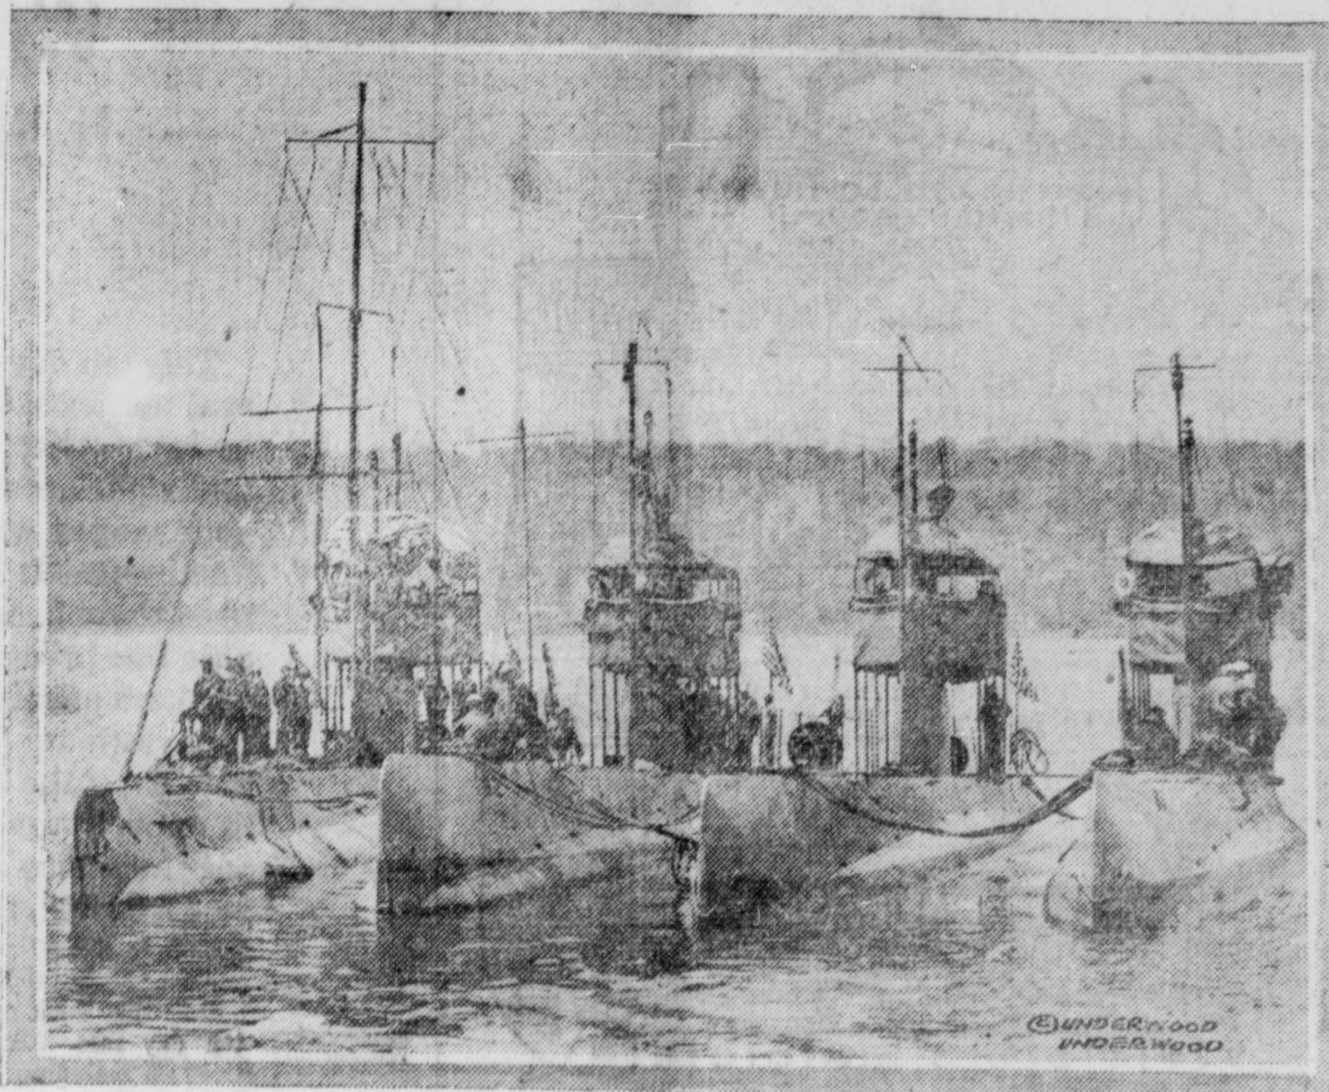

Waiting on Glass.

Many Democrats in Virginia are waiting for Carter Glass to decide whether he will be a candidate for the senate against Claude A. Swanson. Glass ran against Swanson three years ago and was defeated. Since then many things have happened. Swanson was an Underwood man in the Baltimore convention. Glass has been a Wilson man and as chairman of the banking and currency bill was helpful in putting through the administration's currency measure. Ardent Wilson men in Virginia are ready to support Glass if he becomes a candidate for the senate.

One Veteran Less.

The death of Congressman Goulden of New York makes one Union veteran less in congress. In the senate there are four soldiers who served in the Union army, but in the house I can recall but one, General Sherwood of Ohio. Congressman Stedman of North Carolina is the only Confederate soldier in the house. There are three survivors of the Confederacy in the senate. It is not expected that veterans of the civil war will be chosen for either house of congress in the future. Goulden was one of the few men left who heard Lincoln's address at Gettysburg.

Four American Submarines Ready for Naval Exhibition

Here are four of Uncle Sam's submarines at anchor in the North River, ready for the naval exhibition which will last about ten days. Perhaps the largest fleet of war vessels ever collected in American waters will make up this show of the navy.

CAPTURE OF LIBAU IS IMPORTANT EVENT

J. W. T. Mason writes of the capture of Libau, and tells of the importance of that Port from which the Russians have sent large numbers of immigrants to America. If the Germans can hold onto this shipping center it will be of large value to them.

New York, May 14.—The capture of Libau by the Germans is an important gain which will be of a large value to the German peace commissioners, if it remains in possession of the Germans at the end of the war. Russia has recently spent much money in developing the port, from which large numbers of immigrants take ship for America. It is one of the shipping centers of the empire and while of no value to the Slavs during the German blockade of the Baltic, its retention by the Germans after the war would seriously handicap the resumption of Russia's international trade. The Russian government announces Libau was defended only by territorial troops. The victory of the Germans was all out of proportion to the smallness of the forces engaged. Neither the Russians or the Germans were able to send any but moderately strong detachments for the Libau operations and in fact the affair on land does not seem to have risen much beyond the heights of an outpost engagement. The Germans in fact turned the scale in their favor by using warships. In the small number of troops engaged the battle of Libau resembled the recent Russian raid on Mempel. But surprise aided the Russians in their adventurous raid against Germany's northernmost port. Libau, however was not attacked until a fortnight after the Germans began their offensive in the Baltic provinces. The Slavs, therefore had opportunity to redistribute their troops to protect Libau. The fact that this was not done was conclusive evidence that Russia's supply of ammunition is very low. Men, the Grand Duke Nicholas has in plenty, but the equipment is lacking. This undoubtedly is the reason why Libau capitulated. The main advance of the Germans in the Baltic province is northward of Riga, the provincial capital. Riga is 60 miles to the west of Riga Railway. What Russian troops are available for opposing the German advance will be used to protect Riga. The Germans took advantage of this fact and detached a small force from their main army apparently to proceed against Riga as a secondary military object. It appears only a brief conflict was fought at Libau. The Russians either made off or surrendered and Libau was taken as a casual incident of the war. The capture of the town gives to the Germans the most important Russian city that they have occupied since the beginning of hostilities with the possible exceptions of Lodz. If Russia cannot get back the port by force of arms she will have to trade heavily for it in the peace conference.

HE KNEW ALL ABOUT SIAM.

Had Even Heard of the Famous Twins From That Country.

One day President Cleveland sent for John Barrett, now director of the bureau of American republics, and said: "Mr. Barrett, I am looking for some young man who is not afraid of hard work and who wants to make a reputation for himself, to go as minister to Siam to settle the claim of Dr. M. A. Cheek involving several million dollars, and also involving some delicate matters in connection with the interpretation of our treaties with oriental countries. This particular case is one of the most important we now have in the orient. You have received strong endorsements from the Pacific coast as a general to Yokohama, but the office was filled when your recommendations arrived. Will you accept the position as minister to Siam? But first, what do you know about Siam?"

Mr. Barrett couldn't remember whether Siam was in Asia or Africa, but a little thing like this didn't bother him, so he said, "Mr. President, I know all about Siam."

"Well, what do you know about Siam?" said Mr. Cleveland.

TODAY IS YOUR DAY.

Yesterday is Only a Record and Tomorrow is a Secret.

While walking in the streets one is often greeted with the cheerful remark, "It's a nice day!" Good days and bad days exist only in the mind. The weather has nothing to do with it. Each day is what we make it.

Suppose you get the word that your salary has been doubled or that a forgotten uncle has left you $1,000,000. What do you care about the weather then? Or suppose the person you love is dying. Unexpectedly a turn for the better comes. The doctor says your dear one will live. What if it is better than Tophet? It is a good day, a great day, a happy day. It is what we think and feel about it that makes each day what it is.

Put down in the notebook of your soul the poet Runeberg's thought. "Each day is a life." When you get up in the morning throw back your shoulders, take a deep breath and meet the new day like a man. Say to yourself, "Another day, another life!" For all we know it may be the only day we shall ever have. Let us make it the best day we can. Let us strive to make it a day worth while, to move a step forward in our work, do all the good we can, get all the happiness we can today.

Right now is the only time you can control. Yesterday is a record. Tomorrow is a secret. Today is yours and mine.—Philadelphia Press.

SENIOR CLASS MAY NUMBER 50

The Class Graduating at the High School Will be One of the Largest in History of School

DR. J. E. FREEMAN TO SPEAK

Supt. W. C. Cobb Pleads for Continuous Attendance of Pupils—Other School Notes

The senior class this year will number between 40 and 50 members, the exact number depending upon the quality and quantity of work done during the last month or two by some of the doubtful ones who have not been enrolled in the class but who may, by industrious effort, complete their work. At all events the class will be larger than last year and will be one of the largest classes graduated from the high school. The class as a whole has maintained a greater scholarship somewhat above that of most of the classes graduated. The honor roll in scholarship will be announced from the platform on commencement night.

In an article covering the schools of Brainerd, Supt. W. C. Cobb says: "There are two months in the school year the importance of which is frequently overlooked by some parents. We refer to the opening month, September, and the closing school month of May. Each year a certain number of children are permitted by their parents to enter school late thereby getting a poor start, and again, usually in the case of the same children, they are allowed to leave school during the last week or two thereby making a poor finish. We would like to urge upon every parent the very great importance from the child's standpoint, of keeping him in school until school closes, unless the family physician or some urgent necessity forbids.

The last month of the school year is the rounding up and the rounding out of the work covered by the class during the year and more than any other one month enables a teacher, pupil or parent to take a careful inventory and find out what has been accomplished.

We hope that every parent will co-operate with the teachers in combating this tendency of the "quitters" and work together for a good finish.

In all rooms and departments of the school the reviews are about to begin and examinations will commence this week. In order to make the final examinations less exhausting to both pupils and teachers they will be taken by subjects a week apart. The state examinations in grade subjects will begin this year on Tuesday, June 1st, and continue through the week, a complete program which is published herein later.

The attention of all employers of child labor is called at this time to the state labor law and the penalty that attaches for employing children of school age, whether boys or girls, before the close of the school term. This is a time of the year when a number of boys who belong in school and who are required by law to be in school, will be seeking employment thinking thereby to secure jobs before the general rush that comes at the closing of school. It is manifestly unfair to the large majority who remain in school for any parents or employers to encourage this evasion of the state law and thereby help to put a premium on law violation.

Memorial Day as announced by Commander Fox of the local G. A. R. organization, will be observed on Monday, May 31, and as usual the school will participate in the observance, as heretofore.

The play ground apparatus that has been installed by the Park board on the Harrison school grounds in Southeast Brainerd and of which we understand more is to follow, is being enjoyed by hundreds of children of all ages daily. The park board is to be congratulated for their wisdom and enterprise in looking after the interests of childhood in this city and all good citizens will be glad to encourage them in continuing the good work and extending it to the other districts of Brainerd.

During the week preceding the state examinations a general exhibit of the work done by the classes in manual training and domestic science will be held at the high school building. The exhibit will be of a more extensive character than has heretofore been attempted and we believe will not prove disappointing to those who are interested in the development of the industrial side of school work. Prizes will probably be given for superior work.

In this connection it will be of interest to the patrons of the Brainerd schools to know that the girls of the senior class this year will be gowned for commencement eve in dresses made by themselves and we think that no one will be disappointed at their appearance on the platform.

During the month the pupils of Miss Donaldson's room, eighth grade, have secured one of the Journal Junior ten dollar prize pictures in competitive composition work. The pupil whose essay won the picture for the room was Miss Dorothy Saunders. This makes the fourth prize picture secured by 8th grade pupils at the Washington building.

A beautiful Packard piano purchased from Wm. Graham from the proceeds of the school operetta has recently been installed in the high school auditorium.

This year the senior class will get out a special "Annual" number of the school Spectator as did the senior class last year. This Annual will be larger and better than ever before and will contain a number of excellent cuts of the class, faculty and other organizations commemorative of school life and activity. It will be placed on sale at a moderate price but as the number of copies will be limited it would be wise to place an order early with the business manager, Richard Ahrens.

This year commencement exercises will be held on Monday evening, June 7th and Dr. J. E. Freeman of St. Mark's Episcopal church, Minneapolis, will give the address. Dr. Freeman is considered one of the foremost platform speakers in Minnesota and was the first name on a list of three recommended to us by President Vincent and also by the State superintendent of Public Instruction.

The class play given by the present class a short time since was a more elaborate affair than has been given by preceding classes and netted a larger sum for the class memorial than for many years.

It is believed that the high school will make a better showing at the coming state examination than ever before as the attendance has been very high during the entire year and more attention has been given to home study than heretofore.

As was indicated in a former report, the new educational laws passed by the recent legislature are highly advantageous to our local high school in the matter of increased state aid for all lines of industrial work.

Last Sunday the Oak Lawn baseball team defeated South Long Lake by the score of 36 to 7. The rough grounds were the cause of numerous errors on both sides.

The batteries were, Oak Lawn, Roy Britton, Edward Nelson and Joe Graber; South Long Lake, Bert Hitch, Leonard Rasmussen and Ralph Peterson.

Seattle, Wash., May 11— "Goodness gracious," ejaculated postoffice clerks here when Mrs. Annie Olson called for enough parcel post stamps to ship her household goods through the mails.

The consignment weighed 337 pounds.

SAD RITES AT QUEENSTOWN

Funerals of Ninety-two Lusitania Victims Are Held.

Queenstown, May 11.—Ninety-two passengers of the Cunard line steamer Lusitania were buried with services that have no parallel in history.

No Americans, so far as is known, were among those buried. A few of the dead were members of the Lusitania's crew, but the majority of them were either unidentified persons, including a number of small children and babes, or persons, the financial circumstances of whose relatives forced them to be content with the interment of their loved ones wherever it happened to be.

With the British army band playing Chopin's funeral march the funeral procession marched through the crooked streets, past the cathedral, which stands on the highest point in the town, and then took its course along an undulating country road. Along this country road country folk were clustered, for the most part perched on stone fences behind the soldiers who guarded the road the entire two miles from the cathedral to the cemetery.

OPENING DAY OF BASEBALL SEASON

Arrangements of an Elaborate Nature Completed, Parade and Addresses Features

DR. BEISE PITCHES FIRST BALL

Brainerd Band to Play, Rev. Father J. J. O'Mahoney to Speak at the Ball Grounds

All arrangements for the big opening of the 1915 baseball season in Brainerd are about completed. The baseball grounds are in the best of condition. A great deal of pains was used on signboards and fences, making the grounds present a more dressy appearance.

Arrangements for the opening are on an elaborate scale and it is hoped the fans generally will co-operate in carrying out the program.

There will be a baseball parade forming on Laurel street at the new city hall headed by P. S. Parker's auto. He will convey in his new Oldsmobile Rev. Father J. J. O'Mahoney, Mayor R. A. Beise and R. R. Wise.

Following this car will come the Brainerd City band in its natty uniforms. More autos will follow. All having cars are asked to form part of this section and help to lengthen the parade.

Then comes the Verdale team in uniform, marching in two lines. Tom Woods has been rehearsing some funny stunts and he and "Shorty" Anderson, who scales about three feet in height will march together.

The Brainerd baseball team follows, all uniformed and like the old song, "marching on to victory."

The next section will embrace the fans and that means about the whole town of Brainerd, shops, stores, homes, etc. Every member of the Athletic association is invited to be in the line of march.

The parade will start at 3 o'clock. The line of march will be along Laurel street to Broadway, thence to Front, west on Front to Sixth, crossing the tracks to Kingwood and thence east to the ball grounds, where the opening ceremonies will immediately follow.

Rev. Father J. J. O'Mahoney will deliver the opening address to the grand stand, after which Dr. R. A. Beise, mayor of Brainerd, will pitch the first ball thus officially opening the season.

The Verdale lineup is a good one and Brainerd must look to its reputation and laurels or be humbled. Every player has been ambitiously working out in the hopes that the two opening games will result in victories for the locals.

On Friday evening and Saturday evening the Dispatch will issue special baseball editions. The merchants advertisements offer prizes to home players for certain plays. Some are for plays in the opening games and others for plays during the season. Every player under contract has been photographed and his picture will appear in one of the ads on the dates mentioned.

The Athletic association members numbering 90 have been sent an invitation to get out and boost while the Camels' lodge has signified its willingness to join the parade in costume. Other fraternal organizations have also been invited to participate and one of the most spectacular turnouts ever greeting the public is scheduled for 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, May 15.

The schedule for the season will also be published in Friday night's edition, showing the schedule as completed up to the middle of July. It gives guaranty of a fine list of games that should be interesting and full of pep.

SENIOR CLASS MAY NUMBER 50

The Class Graduating at the High School Will be One of the Largest in History of School

DR. J. E. FREEMAN TO SPEAK

Supt. W. C. Cobb Pleads for Continuous Attendance of Pupils—Other School Notes

The senior class this year will number between 40 and 50 members, the exact number depending upon the quality and quantity of work done during the last month or two, by some of the doubtful ones who have not been enrolled in the class but who may, by industrious effort, complete their work. At all events the class will be larger than last year and will be one of the largest classes graduated from the high school. The class as a whole has maintained a greater scholarship somewhat above that of most of the classes graduated. The honor roll in scholarship will be announced from the platform on commencement night.

In an article covering the schools of Brainerd, Supt. W. C. Cobb says: "There are two months in the school year the importance of which is frequently overlooked by some parents. We refer to the opening month, September, and the closing school month of May. Each year a certain number of children are permitted by their parents to enter school late thereby getting a poor start, and again, usually in the case of the same children, they are allowed to leave school during the last week or two thereby making a poor finish. We would like to urge upon every parent the very great importance from the child's standpoint, of keeping him in school until school closes, unless the family physician or some urgent necessity forbids.

The last month of the school year is the rounding up and the rounding out of the work covered by the class during the year and more than any other one month enables a teacher, pupil or parent to take a careful inventory and find out what has been accomplished.

We hope that every parent will co-operate with the teachers in combating this tendency of the 'quitters' and work together for a good finish.

In all rooms and departments of the school the reviews are about to begin and examinations will commence this week. In order to make the final examinations less exhausting to both pupils and teachers they will be taken by subjects a week apart. The state examinations in grade subjects will begin this year on Tuesday, June 1st, and continue through the week, a complete program which is published herein later.

The attention of all employers of child labor is called at this time to the state labor law and the penalty that attaches for employing children of school age, whether boys or girls, before the close of the school term. This is a time of the year when a number of boys who belong in school and who are required by law to be in school, will be seeking employment thinking thereby to secure jobs before the general rush that comes at the closing of school. It is manifestly unfair to the large majority who remain in school for any parents or employers to encourage this evasion of the state law and thereby help to put a premium on law violation.

Memorial Day as announced by Commander Fox of the local G. A. R. organization, will be observed on Monday, May 31, and as usual the school will participate in the observance, as heretofore.

The play ground apparatus that has been installed by the Park board on the Harrison school grounds in Southeast Brainerd and of which we understand more is to follow, is being enjoyed by hundreds of children of all ages daily. The park board is to be congratulated for their wisdom and enterprise in looking after the interests of childhood in this city and all good citizens will be glad to encourage them in continuing the good work and extending it to the other districts of Brainerd.

During the week preceding the state examinations a general exhibit of the work done by the classes in manual training and domestic science will be held at the high school building. The exhibit will be of a more extensive character than has heretofore been attempted and we believe will not prove disappointing to those who are interested in the development of the industrial side of school work. Prizes will probably be given for superior work.

In this connection it will be of interest to the patrons of the Brainerd schools to know that the girls of the senior class this year will be gowned for commencement eve in dresses made by themselves and we think that no one will be disappointed at their appearance on the platform.

During the month the pupils of Miss Donaldson's room, eighth grade, have secured one of the Journal Junior ten dollar prize pictures in competitive composition work. The pupils whose essay won the picture for the room was Miss Dorothy Saunders. This makes the fourth prize picture secured by 8th grade pupils at the Washington building.

A beautiful Packard piano purchased from Wm. Graham from the proceeds of the school opera has recently been installed in the high school auditorium.

This year the senior class will get out a special "Annual" number of the school Spectator as did the senior class last year. This Annual will be larger and better than ever before and will contain a number of excellent cuts of the class, faculty and other organizations commemorative of school life and activity. It will be placed on sale at a moderate price but as the number of copies will be limited it would be wise to place an order early with the business manager, Richard Ahrens.

This year commencement exercises will be held on Monday evening, June 7th and Dr. J. E. Freeman of St. Mark's Episcopal church, Minneapolis, will give the address. Dr. Freeman is considered one of the foremost platform speakers in Minnesota and was the first name on a list of three recommended to us by President Vincent and also by the State superintendent of Public Instruction. The class play given by the present class a short time since was a more elaborate affair than has been given by preceding classes and netted a larger sum for the class memorial than for many years.

It is believed that the high school will make a better showing at the coming state examination than ever before as the attendance has been very high during the entire year and more attention has been given to home study than heretofore.

As was indicated in a former report, the new educational laws passed by the recent legislature are highly advantageous to our local high school in the matter of increased state aid for all lines of industrial work.

Last Sunday the Oak Lawn baseball team defeated South Long Lake by the score of 36 to 7. The rough grounds were the cause of numerous errors on both sides.

The batteries were, Oak Lawn, Roy Britton, Edward Nelson and Joe Graber; South Long Lake, Bert Hitch, Leonard Rasmussen and Ralph Peterson.

The feature of the game was the phenomenal pitching of Ed. Nelson who struck out 18 men in 7 innings. Altogether 21 men fanned on the Long Lake team. For games apply to Jack Kamrath, Route No. 2, or telephone rural operator, call 7.

SAD RITES AT QUEENSTOWN

Funerals of Ninety-two Lusitania Victims Are Held.

Queenstown, May 11.—Ninety-two passengers of the Cunard line steamer Lusitania were buried with services that have no parallel in history.

No Americans, so far as is known, were among those buried. A few of the dead were members of the Lusitania's crew, but the majority of them were either unidentified persons, including a number of small children and babes, or persons, the financial circumstances of whose relatives forced them to be content with the interment of their loved ones wherever it happened to be.

With the British army band playing Chopin's funeral march the funeral procession marched through the crooked streets, past the cathedral, which stands on the highest point in the town, and then took its course along an undulating country road. Along this country road country folk were clustered, for the most part perched on stone fences behind the soldiers who guarded the road the entire two miles from the cathedral to the cemetery.

HUMILITY.

Humility is the means of progress. When we realize how little we know we shall yearn and strive to know more. When we feel how imperfect is our character, and not till then, we shall make earnest efforts after our improvement.

The BLACK BOX

by E. Phillips Oppenheim

Novelized from the Photo Play of the Same Name. Produced by the Universal Film Manufacturing Company.

SYNOPSIS.

Sanford Quest, master criminologist of the world, finds that in bringing to justice Macdougall, the murderer of Lord Ashleigh's daughter, he has just entered a life-and-death struggle with a mysterious master criminal. In a hidden hut in Professor Ashleigh's garden he has seen an anthropoid ape skeleton and a living inhuman creature, half monkey, half man, destroyed by fire. In his rooms at intervals have appeared from nowhere two black boxes with sarcastic and threatening notes signed with a pair of armless, threatening hands, representing those which have already figured in a diamond robbery. With his secretary, Laura, and his assistant, Lenora, he follows the trail of Macdougall, who escaped on his way to prison, and finds Macdougall's dead body in a cave on a lonely hillside. After a thrilling escape from two thugs who try to kill him he returns to his rooms. There he finds his secretary, Brown, and a Miss Quigley murdered, and Police Inspector French investigating. French, puzzled, half suspects Quest of the crime.

FIFTH INSTALLMENT

ON THE RACK.

CHAPTER XII.

For the moment a new element had been introduced into the horror of the little tableau. All eyes were fixed upon Quest, who listened to the inspector's dubious words with a supercilious smile upon his lips.

"Perhaps," he suggested, "you would like to ask me a few questions?" "Perhaps I may feel it my duty to do so," the inspector replied gravely. "In the first place, then, Mr. Quest, will you kindly explain the condition of your clothes?"

Quest shrugged his shoulders. "Here you are, then," he replied. "This morning I decided to make an attempt to clear up the mystery of Macdougall's disappearance. I sent on my secretary, Miss Laura, to make friends with the section boss, and Lenora and I went out by automobile a little later. We instituted a search on a new principle, and before very long we found Macdougall's body. That's one up against you, I think, inspector."

"Very likely," the inspector observed. "Go on, please."

"I left the two young ladies, at Miss Lenora's wish, to superintend the removal of the body. I myself had an engagement to deliver over her jewels to Mrs. Rheinholdt here at midday. I returned to where my automobile was waiting, started for the city and was attacked by two thugs near the section house. I got away from them, ran to the tower house to try and stop the freight, was followed by the thugs, and jumped out on to the last car from the signal arm."

"Where is your automobile?" "No idea," Quest replied. "I left it in the road. When I jumped from the freight car I took a taxi to the professor's and called for him, as arranged."

The inspector nodded. "I shall have to ask you to excuse me for a moment," he said, "while I ring up number ten signal tower. If Mr. Quest's story receives corroboration the matter is at an end."

The inspector left the room almost immediately.

When he returned he was looking graver than ever.

"Quest," he announced, "your alibi is useless—in fact, a little worse than useless. The operator at number ten has been found murdered at the back of the tower!"

Quest started.

"I ought not to have left him to those thugs," he murmured regretfully.

"There is no automobile of yours in the vicinity," the inspector continued, "nor any news of it. I think it will be as well now, Quest, for this matter to take its obvious course. Will you, first of all, hand over her jewels to Mrs. Rheinholdt?"

Quest drew the keys of the safe from his pocket, crossed the room and swung open the safe door. For a moment afterwards he stood transfixed. His arm, half outstretched, remained motionless. Then he turned slowly around.

"The jewels have been stolen," he announced with unnatural calm.

The inspector laid his hand heavily upon Quest's shoulder.

"You will kindly consider yourself under arrest, Quest. Ladies and gentlemen, will you clear the room now, if you please. The ambulance I telephoned for is outside."

The professor, who had been looking as though dazed, suddenly intervened.

"Mr. French," he said earnestly, "I am convinced that you are making a great mistake. In arresting and taking away Mr. Quest you are removing from us the one man who is likely to be able to clear up this mystery."

The inspector pushed him gently to one side.

"You will excuse me, professor," he said, "but this is no matter for argument. If Mr. Quest can clear himself, no one will be more glad than I."

Quest shrugged his shoulders.

"The inspector will have his little joke," he observed dryly. "It's all right, girls. Keep cool," he went on, as he saw the tears in Lenora's eyes.

GERMANY SENDS DEEP SYMPATHY

Regrets Loss of American Lives on Lusitania.

HOLDS BRITAIN TO BLAME

Berlin Foreign Office Declares English Plan of Starving Civilian Population of Germany Has Forced That Country to Resort to Retaliatory Measures.

Berlin, May 11.—The following dispatch has been sent by the German foreign office to the German embassy at Washington:

"Please communicate the following to the state department: The German government desires to express its deepest sympathy at the loss of lives on board the Lusitania. The responsibility rests, however, with the British government, which through its plan of starving the civilian population of Germany has forced Germany to resort to retaliatory measures.

"In spite of the German offer to stop the submarine war in case the starvation plan was given up British merchant vessels are being generally armed with guns and have repeatedly tried to ram submarines, so that a previous search was impossible.

"They cannot, therefore, be treated as ordinary merchant vessels. A recent declaration made to the British parliament by the parliamentary secretary in answer to a question by Lord Charles Beresford said that at the present practically all British merchant vessels were armed and provided with hand grenades.

"Besides, it has been openly admitted by the English press that the Lusitania on previous voyages repeatedly carried large quantities of war material. On the present voyage the Lusitania carried 5,400 cases of ammunition, while the rest of the cargo also consisted chiefly of contraband.

"If England, after repeated official and unofficial warnings, considered herself able to declare that that boat ran no risk and thus light heartedly assumed responsibility for the human life on board a steamer which, owing to its armament and cargo, was liable to destruction, the German government, in spite of its heartfelt sympathy for the loss of American lives, cannot but regret that Americans felt more inclined to trust to English promises rather than to pay attention to the warnings from the German side."

"AND NOW THE RECKONING"

New York Herald Turns All Column Rules for Lusitania Dead.

New York, May 11.—The Herald appeared with turned rules on each of its twenty-four pages. On each page of the main section in black border are the words, "In Memoriam—American Men, Women and Children Lost on Board the Lusitania."

On the editorial page are several short paragraphs reading: "What a pity Theodore Roosevelt is not president of the United States today." Other paragraphs on the same page read: "What is President Wilson going to do about it?"

On the editorial page, also under the caption, "In Memoriam to the American Women and Children Drowned on Board the Lusitania," is an article stating that "the country has counted its dead and calculated its loss," and concluded, "and now the reckoning." The editorial is set in italics.

BISHOP SCANLON IS DEAD

Head of Salt Lake Diocese of Catholic Church.

Salt Lake City, May 11.—Laurence Scanlon, bishop of the Salt Lake City diocese of the Roman Catholic church, and a pioneer missionary of the West, died here after a long illness.

Bishop Scanlon was born in Tipperary, Ireland, Sept. 29, 1843, and was sent as a missionary to California immediately after his ordination in 1863. He went as a volunteer priest to Ploche, Nev., then a rough mining camp, in 1869, where he endured many hardships and was at one time the object of a religious boycott by the lawless elements of the place that made it difficult for him to obtain food.

He became the first bishop of Salt Lake in 1891.

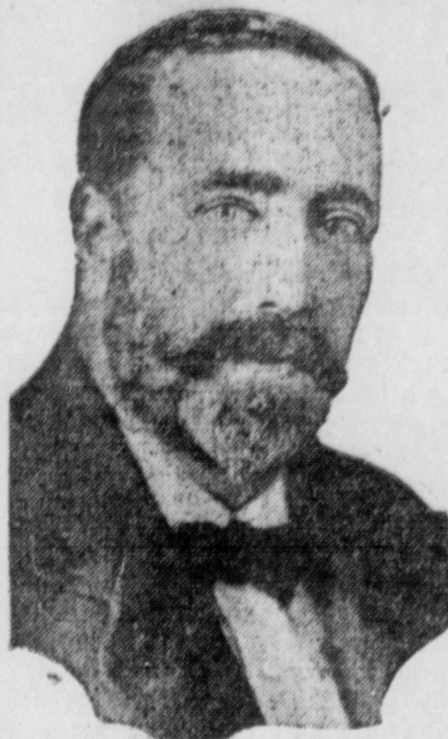

Ban on Live Stock Lifted.

St. Paul, May 11.—The Nebraska embargo on Minnesota live stock, put on at a time when the foot and mouth disease was so prevalent in Chicago and elsewhere as to alarm live stock interests, has been lifted. The news will bring joy to Minnesota shippers.

Governor W. S. Hammond received a message from J. H. Eulla, Nebraska state health commissioner, advising him that Governor J. H. Morehead of that state has signed the order removing the shipping restrictions.

DR. DERNBURG.

Washington Times Says He Should Be Expelled.

CALLS DERNBURG NUISANCE

Washington Times Demands His Immediate Expulsion.

Washington, May 11.—The Washington Times, in its leading editorial, demands the expulsion from America of Dr. Dernburg. It says:

"This man Dernburg, who flaunts in any and every city of the United States the crimes of those he represents in Berlin, needs nothing so much for the sake of common decency, not to speak of international obligations, as to be pelted from the country."

"What the first president of the United States did promptly to Genet was long ago due to this creature Dernburg. Genet officially was less of an offense to Americanism than Dernburg, semi-officially he was an outrage both to Americanism and all civilization.

"George Washington more than a century ago snuffed out the blatant Genet. Let the noisy, noxious Dernburg in this year of 1915 follow the less insufferable Genet."

SAYS UNITED STATES CANNOT HELP MUCH

London Times Comments on Possibility of War.

London, May 11.—The Times, in discussing what the United States is likely to do to make good its official words, says:

"No attempt at direct action could have any very material effect on the situation.

"The standing forces of the United States are so small that they could give little help at present in the saving of civilization from the menace that confronts it.

"Millions of men are already under arms arrayed against the kaiser and his hordes of demented barbarians and the German flag has been swept from the seas.

"The United States government is far less able to hold Germany to a strict accountability than ourselves were when the war began."

The editorial continues with the conjecture that President Wilson is probably doubting whether America can continue friendly relations with Germany.

Air Raid Kills Two.

London, May 11.—There was a German air raid on South End and vicinity. Altogether the airmen dropped 120 bombs, but only two deaths resulted. An old woman was killed in her bed and her husband, who had attempted to rescue her, died from injuries received in jumping from a window. The material damage caused by fire started by the bombs is estimated at $50,000.

DEFENSE RESTS ITS CASE

Roosevelt Scores in Keeping Certain Evidence on Record.

Syracuse, N. Y., May 11.—Four out of five motions to strike from the record parts of testimony offered in behalf of Theodore Roosevelt were denied in the supreme court here. The motions were made by counsel for William Barnes in his libel suit against Colonel Roosevelt, after the defense had rested its case.

That part of former State Senator George B. Agnew's testimony which had to do with the election of Jonathan P. Alds as president pro tem of the state senate was stricken from the record.

Mr. Agnew's testimony, which had to do with the Agnew-Hart race track bill, was allowed to stand, to the effect that State Senator Grattan, at the bidding of Mr. Barnes, voted against the bill, after he had promised to support it.

Justice William S. Andrew ruled that this testimony should remain in simply to show, if it did, Mr. Barnes' dominance of the party.

ALLIES ARE MOVING AGAINST GERMANS

French Report Capture of Many Prisoners and Guns.

London, May 11.—In the land campaign in France and Belgium there are intimations of a strong movement of the allies against the Germans with heavy reinforcements.

The French war office reports the capture of many prisoners and guns during the last two days and German headquarters admit that in the neighborhood of Carceny the allies have succeeded in occupying the foremost German trenches. The attacks and counter attacks are continuous and the losses on both sides are heavy.

The British line, notwithstanding a strenuous week, remains the same to the east of Ypres as it was on the night of May 3-4, when the British troops were obliged to draw back a little.

In the Carpathians the Germans are reported to be making preparations for a further movement against the Russians in their new positions, while in the Baltic provinces the Russians have succeeded in inflicting heavy losses upon their adversaries near Mitau.

THE beauty of the Real Tobacco Chew is that the longer you use it the better you like it. Result is that men keep using it steady—and count it a pleasure to be able to pass the tip along to friends.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough—cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW IS NOW CUT TWO WAYS!! W-B CUT IS LONG SHRED. RIGHT-CUT IS SHORT SHRED.

Take less than one-quarter the old size chew. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just take a nibble of it until you find the strength chew that suits you, then see how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end. The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up. An excess of licorice and sweetening makes you spit too much.

Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste.

ABSOLUTELY PUNCTUREPROOF

Double Service Tires are double the thickness of the best standard make tires.

This 100 per cent greater wearing surface naturally gives that much more mileage and service. The average of 12 miles of tough fabric in one inch of face is made of rubber makes these tires absolutely punctureproof.

These tires excel all others for use in the country over rough and rugged roads as well as on hard pavements. They are as easy riding and resilient as any other pneumatic tire—the air space and pressure being the same.

They are the most economical and "care free" tires made and are used where tires must be depended on and tire troubles cannot be tolerated. Many Double Service tires are in use in the United States government and European War service.
